

Ancient Herbal Wisdom Combined With Cutting-Edge Technology

ABOUT PROFESSIONAL BOTANICALS AND THEIR PRODUCTS

Professional Botanicals is one of the leading manufacturers of herbal formulas, nutraceuticals, vitamins and minerals to health care practitioners in the United States.

Professional Botanicals was founded 27 years ago through the personal vision of Chuck Millet, fueled by his wife's ill-health and subsequent recovery with the aid of nutritional and herbal formulas. He gathered a group of doctors dedicated to creating formulas of a superior quality for use by Health Care Practitioners. Their sole mission was to provide the best researched products available to support the quest for optimum health and genetic potential through nutrition. In 1980, the research was primarily outside the United States and required "knowing the right people to access this research." Having those connections and accessing this research took over a year before the first product was available on the market. The result is a line of products which is specialized, yet extremely comprehensive, encompassing ancient Chinese formulas combined with scientific research and nutraceuticals. They were also responsible for the innovative Enzyme Delivery System, EDS™, which adds a proprietary blend of enzymes to almost all of their products to address the issue of bio-availability (the ability to be absorbed by the body). This proprietary blend has harnessed the power of enzymes to improve the body's absorption of vitamins and key ingredients.

In spite of there being little or no marketing, the word about Professionals Botanicals products has quietly spread and they have been used successfully by Health Care Practitioners all over the US since the eighties. Now under the management of his son Dr Allan Millet and Naturally Botanicals, this hidden gem of a product line is being brought into the mainstream and made more widely available in order that many more people can benefit from this amazing line of formulas.

Their constant research and refining of products continues to meet the changing needs of today's consumers and health concerns, such as rising stress levels, obesity, heart disease, etc. Potential new products and materials are critically evaluated, initially being assessed by independent research findings and then through an intensive in-house development program. Finally the products are further evaluated in an independent clinical setting.
